

Joan, a participant in Portraits of Life

An opportunity to have a professional portrait of your loved one by award winning photographer David Ellingsen

Bill, a participant in Portraits of Life

Saturday, April 18, Yaletown House 2-4 pm

In celebration of Yaletown House's Craft Room Renovation completion, we are having a party! The Craft Room completion is just one of our success stories and part of the facility-wide fundraising campaign, Quality of Life Starts at Home.

We have lots of activities planned for April 18 and include:

- Photography Session by Donation - See Details below (pre-registration required)
- Portraits of Life Art Show – 19 photographs on display from the recent publication
- Craft Room Ribbon Cutting Ceremony with the Executive Director Carol Crichton
- And refreshments made fresh in our new Craft Room

We hope you can join us!

Photography Session By donation to Yaletown House, professional portraits by David Ellingsen will be offered during the day's celebrations. David captured the photographs in the publication Portraits of Life published last winter at Yaletown House. David is a commercial and fine art photographer based in Vancouver. His client list includes the New York Times Magazine, People and Marie Claire along with BMW, the CBC and the David Suzuki Foundation. Proceeds from your donation will go directly to Quality of Life Starts at Home.
